Dear Members,

PLEASE READ ALL ENCLOSED ITEMS CAREFULLY – PARTICULARLY THE INVITATION!

Handicap Information:

Every player must have a current active U.S.G.A. GHIN handicap card. The player must be affiliated with a member club. If you print your handicap information from the web at ghin.com, please send your GHIN number along with it.

It is a simple procedure to obtain a handicap card. Talk with the club pro or club manager (at the course where you are a member or where you regularly play) about purchasing a handicap "box." Once the box is purchased, turn in your scores (even away scores- just include the course slope and rating along with the score) from any 18-hole round played according to USGA regulations. The club sends the information to the Kentucky Golf Association. After you have a minimum of 5 scores, a handicap will be calculated and you will receive your card. After you have turned in 20 scores, your handicap is based upon the best 10 scores out of the most recent 20.

The handicap box can be purchased every year, starting in March. An active handicap card is one that has scores posted to it every year. Handicap cards that have no scores posted in several years can not be considered active.

The GHIN number stays the same from year to year. This number is on the card that will be submitted with the entry to the Amateur and perhaps for other tournaments that are entered. The GHIN number is used to update handicaps prior to the tournament every year.

2007 Tournament Information:

The Senior Amateur:

Contact person for The Senior Women's Amateur is Annette Nimmo. She may be contacted via email at animmo@prodigy.net or phone at 270-354-8766.

The 2007 Senior Amateur will be held at Madisonville Country Club in Madisonville.

The Amateur:

Caddies are allowed during The Amateur. Everyone is expected to follow rules of etiquette during the tournament. If you have any questions regarding play, etiquette, or rules during the tournament, please consult a member of the Rules Committee.

Carts must be paid for in advance (see entry form). After the Wednesday round, players still in the match play will pay for their cart in the pro shop. Caddies that wish to ride may do so – the cost is $15 per round. Carts that are not pre-paid for either the player or the caddie may not be available during the first three days. Miller Memorial Golf Course is not a difficult course to walk, but the front is somewhat hilly. Pace of play will be enforced. Players who walk will be expected to keep pace!

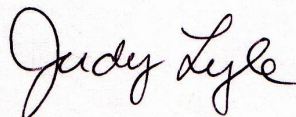

The Annual Business Meeting is combined with the Banquet on Tuesday, June 26. The Board feels strongly that all players should be present at this event. It is a time to find out how the Association works and a time to thank our host and honor the players. We recognize that some players and their families are commuting – however, the player should make arrangements to be present at the meeting!

During the Sunday practice round for The Amateur, there is a Better Ball Tournament and a Rally for the Cure Closest-to-the-Hole competition. Please see the enclosed information sheets on these.

We look forward to having a full field at the 2007 Amateur. Please send in your entries early. If you have any questions, contact me by email (jrlyle@murray-ky.net) or phone (270-759-9949 or cell phone: 270-559-2497).

Sincerely,

Judy Lyle
Executive Secretary
